Support stuns
brain tumour
Wanted singer

THE Wanted singer Tom Parker said he's been "overwhelmed" by support after revealing he has an inoperable brain tumour.

The 32-year-old pop star (above) announced he had found out six weeks ago that he has a stage 4 glioblastoma.

He said: "We truly are overwhelmed with everyone's love, support and positivity. We have had so many people reach out with positive stories and it's been incredible. We are fighting this. Thanks to everyone behind us fighting alongside us. Let's do this."

His bandmate Max George replied with the words "You got this", having posted a longer message of support on his Instagram account on Monday.

His other bandmates also rallied round, with Siva Kaneswaran saying "We are with you all the way".

Food standards law
'not necessary'

THE UK's Environment Secretary has defended the government's refusal to protect food standards in law and insisted a "prohibition" on chlorinated chicken or hormone-treated beef would not change.

MPs voted to reject measures aimed at protecting UK food standards in future trade deals.

Environment Secretary George Eustice said the legal protection "wasn't necessary" and the government had given assurances to the National Farmers' Union that it would "protect and uphold our standards".

ALL BAR GONE!
Pub chain in job losses

ALL Bar One owner Mitchells & Butlers has started redundancy consultations with staff as it struggles with the impact of the coronavirus pandemic.

The pub and bar group, which also owns Harvester and Toby Carvery, said it is facing "significant difficulties" after restrictions tightened again.

It has not disclosed how many jobs are likely to be affected.

Last week, rival Greene King revealed plans to cut around 800 jobs, while fellow pub groups Young's, Fuller's and City Pub Group have also said they are planning redundancies.

Mitchells & Butlers operates around 1,700 restaurants, pubs and bars across the UK and employs around 44,000 people.

"Mitchells & Butlers, like many others in the sector, has taken the very difficult and regrettable decision to open redundancy consultations with a number of our frontline team and will seek to redeploy affected staff wherever possible," a company spokeswoman said.

The announcement comes after bars in Liverpool were told to close as part of the Government's new three-tiered restriction system for England.

The move comes after the introduction of the 10pm curfew, restrictions on service and a resultant slump in customer sentiment all weighed on hospitality operators.

The Mitchells & Butlers spokeswoman said: "Our industry is operating in exceptionally challenging and uncertain circumstances. While we have worked incredibly hard to make sure Covid-19 secure and keep staff and customers safe, we are facing significant difficulties from the recently introduced 10pm curfew for pubs, bars and restaurants, new enforced closures and tapering government support that doesn't go far enough.

"We strongly urge the government to step up the level of support it is offering to an industry which has been repeatedly singled out and taken the full brunt of restrictions."

Football star Ronaldo has coronavirus

CRISTIANO Ronaldo has tested positive for coronavirus, the Portuguese FA have confirmed.

The news comes just days after the five-time Ballon d'Or winner played for Portugal against France in the UEFA Nations League and against Spain in an international friendly.

The Juventus superstar (above) immediately left the national team camp after returning his positive test and will miss tonight's Nations League match against Sweden as well as upcoming club games.

It has been confirmed that the 35-year-old former Manchester United and Real Madrid forward is asymptomatic and is now self-isolating while he recovers.

Ronaldo's positive test comes shortly after two of his Portuguese team-mates also tested positive for Covid-19.

Earlier in the international break, Anthony Lopes and Jose Fonte had contracted the virus and were immediately sent away from the Portugal camp.

Hate crimes hit a record high

THE number of hate crimes recorded by police in England and Wales has hit its highest level on record, with racially-motivated offences rising by more than 4,000 in a year.

Official figures show 105,090 hate crimes were recorded in 2019/20, up 8% compared with 97,446 offences in 2018/19.

According to Home Office data, race hate crimes accounted for 72% of offences (76,070) and this had risen by 6% since 2018/19 when 72,041 were recorded.

A separate report looking at hate crime trends during the Covid pandemic, warned that rises in racially or religiously aggravated hate crime in June and July were a third higher than the previous year.

NEW LOCKDOWN IS NOT ENOUGH,
WARNS MINISTER
Further measures needed says Jenrick

'LOT OF WORK TO DO': Housing secretary spoke out over virus

THE government may need to introduce even stricter measures to combat a rise in coronavirus cases in high-risk areas, a minister has revealed.

Housing Secretary Robert Jenrick said there was "a lot of work to do" in the fight against Covid 19 and "we're going to be living with it for a long time to come".

"We may have to go even further than what we've announced," he cautioned.

Mr Jenrick added that the government wanted to "design those steps jointly between ourselves and local government".

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

But there has been anger among some local leaders, with claims that Westminster has imposed restrictions without adequate consultation.

Mr Jenrick was speaking after Prime Minister Boris Johnson's new three tier lockdown system came into place with areas given "medium", "high" and "very high" coronavirus alert levels.

The Liverpool City Region is currently the only area in the "very high" alert level.

The government will give the region £14million to enhance enforcement and boost the NHS Test and Trace scheme.

Most of those areas already living under local restrictions – such as Greater Manchester, West Yorkshire and the North East – will move into 'Tier 2', as will Nottinghamshire, East and West Cheshire, and a small area of High Peak.

Criticism

Essex County Council has asked Health Secretary Matt Hancock to move the area from Tier 1 to Tier 2, following a significant rise in cases.

The PM said the government would provide local authorities across England with around £1bn of new financial support in light of the new measures.

But Downing Street's approach attracted criticism from local leaders.

St Helens North MP Conor McGinn said there was "no agreement" on the measures for the Liverpool region with the government and argued they were "imposed" on the area.

But Mr Jenrick countered that "we did listen" to local leaders and "they influenced the measures".

It was also revealed yesterday that the government had rejected recommendations from scientists to bring in a national two-week circuit-breaker lockdown.

HUGE TAX HIKES 'INEVITABLE'

Tax rises of more than £40billion a year are 'all but inevitable' to protect UK government debt from spinning out of control, a think tank has warned.

The Institute for Fiscal Studies said borrowing this year will hit levels not seen in peacetime due to the pandemic.

It said the state had pumped an extra £200bn into the economy to support jobs, businesses and incomes this year.

This was necessary but would mean big tax hikes into the middle of the next decade, the IFS said.

To pay for the services it provides, the UK government borrows from pension funds, insurance companies and investors around the world – then tries to balance its books through taxes.

But in an update originally meant to accompany Chancellor Rishi Sunak's (left) now scrapped Autumn Budget, the IFS said this would become harder as the crisis rolled on.

It said the economy was forecast to be 5% smaller in 2024-25 than was projected back in March, which would leave the country with a £100bn hit to its finances from lower tax revenues.

At the same time, it said "higher borrowing will be with us for some time to come".

MADE in Chelsea and I'm a Celeb scorchers Georgia Toffolo has added another string to her bow...

She's become an AUTHOR!

The 25-year-old signed a four-book deal with Mills & Boon, who specialise in slushy romance and mild smut for grans.

First up is Meet Me in London, featuring the adventures of four gal pals who get on with their lives and fall in love with billionaires.

It's set in Chelsea (of course), where much of the action takes place in the haberdashery section of a department store, and where a full-breasted seamstress called Victoria wanders around fingering bolts of luscious satin when she's not working as a teacher and tutoring underprivileged kids.

Choking

And Toff has chucked in some low-grade filth to get the grans choking on their Mint Imperials.

The hero is called Richard, whose muscles strain through the linen of his shirt – and that's not all that bulges!

On page 254, Toff writes: "She pressed her body back against his, and felt the hard length of him."

Toff explained: "I did not want to use 'willy' or 'dick'. It is not Fifty Shades of Grey. And it's not full-on bonking, it's just a light dusting of hanky-panky.

'She pushed back against his hard length...'

"I didn't want it to come across like she's talking dirty all the time, but now I think, 'Shit!' – I should have put MORE sex in."

She added: "When you are alluding to someone being horny, there are so many different ways to go about it. I didn't want it to sound cringe."

Toff co-authored the book with accomplished chicklit writer Louisa George, explaining: "It's my storyline, and it is imbued with me."

Meet Me in London by Georgia Toffolo is published by Mills & Boon on October 15, available in paperback, eBook and audio.

Si breaks back for BGT return

SIMON Cowell will be ready to return to Britain's Got Talent next year, says show co-judge Amanda Holden.

The music mogul, 61 (right), has been recovering after breaking part of his back in a fall from an electric bike he was testing at his house in Malibu.

Amanda, 49, told Good Morning Britain: "He's very determined – he's a fighter. There's no way he'll want to be seen to be failing or not getting better as quickly as he possibly can."

"I know we will see him next year."

Lifer Bronson's hot water bottle to combat cold

NOTORIOUS prisoner Charles Bronson has been handed a HOT WATER BOTTLE to keep him cosy in his cell.

All lags at HMP Woodhill's two Close Supervision Centres – home to around 20 of the most 'challenging' prisoners – were given hot water bottles to keep the chill off.

Bronson (above), 67, who now calls himself Charles Salvador, has been in prison since 1974 and was jailed for life in 1999 for taking an art teacher hostage at HMP Hull.

All inmates who are segregated from around 600 other prisoners at HMP Woodhill were handed hot water bottles after a boiler problem at the jail.

The Independent Monitoring Board stated: "Segregated prisoners complained of the cold after the boiler had broken.

"A governor bought all the prisoners hot water bottles."

BATMAN is the worst driver in movie history, a study has found.

Boffins analysed the driving habits of the stars and found Ben Affleck's Batman – who he has played in three films – was the worst offender.

The Hollywood star, 48, clocked up a whopping 97 penalty points playing the caped crusader.

Roger Moore, who played British spy James Bond seven times, clocked up 91 points.

BODY TO SPY FOR: Bond girl Margaret boasted a fabulous figure

By GRACE HOOPER

ACTRESS Margaret Nolan – one of the most famous Bond girls ever from her role in Goldfinger – has died aged 76.

She also appeared in Carry On movies and alongside The Beatles in A Hard Day's Night – and famously also appeared nude in Playboy.

British director Edgar Wright, who worked with Nolan in 2019 for his upcoming horror film Last Night In Soho, announced news of her death on social media.

Wright said the former glamour model frequently sent up "her own glamourpuss image" in her acting roles.

He said: "It's my sad duty to report that actress and artist, the magnificent Margaret Nolan, has passed away.

"She was the middle of Venn diagram of everything cool in the 60s, having appeared with the Beatles, been beyond iconic in Bond and been part of the Carry On cast too.

"She also appeared in five Spike Milligan Q series, Steptoe & Son, The Likely Lads, Morecambe & Wise and The Sweeney."

In Goldfinger, she played 007's masseuse Dink, alongside Sean Connery.

But she is also known for her role in the 1964 film's title sequence, where she danced painted entirely in gold.

THE THREE-AND-A-HALF YEAR ITCH!

THE Seven Year Itch has been halved – with women most likely to cheat on their husbands three-and-a-half years after their wedding day, according to a new survey.

It found that female cheats have their first lapse five months faster than men.

Men who are unfaithful to their partners first cheat three years and ten months into a relationship on average.

The results are from a new poll of 2,000 people by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

The findings shatter the myth that couples go through a 'Seven Year Itch' when cheating is most likely.

In fact, the first signs of trouble for couples likely to cheat come in around half that time.

The research found men and women have very different reasons for cheating – with emotional problems the main factor for women whereas sex, opportunity and peer group pressure are more important for men.

Boredom topped the list of reasons for women cheating, while a need for more sex was the number one reason for men having a fling.

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "The Seven Year Itch has been halved, with relationships hitting a rocky patch far earlier than in previous years.

Dull

"This trend has been going on for several years and it has been accelerated by Covid.

"Life's too short to be stuck in a dull relationship – where there is little conversation and the sex is the same every time.

"People are sticking with their partners because they cannot afford to move but are then getting fresh excitement by having discreet affairs.

"We expect the time when people first cheat to come down even faster over the next few years as unhappy partners increasingly live for the moment without thinking about the consequences."

More than a million people registered with IllicitEncounters.com in the last decade and there has been a 25% surge in registrations since the Covid crisis, with people seeking new partners after becoming bored with their long-term relationship.

Man harassed his doorstep poo ex-lover

A MAN who harassed his ex-lover during a 'very tumultuous' relationship which ended with her shitting on his doorstep has been let off with a suspended jail sentence.

Deka Ahmed, 41, took a restraining order out against Silvestrs Rullis, 28, after accusing him of attacking her at her west London home and at Fulham Broadway station.

Latvian Rullis breached the order by visiting her home three times and by allowing her into his South Kensington home during the lockdown, Westminster Magistrates' Court heard.

Ahmed then attacked Rullis and smashed his furniture during a drunken bust-up, before emptying her bowels on the doorstep.

Rullis (above), now of Marylebone, admitted three charges of harassment and one of criminal damage.

He was handed a four-week jail sentence, suspended for 18 months.

Blackmailer jailed over transvestite sex vids threat

A BLACKMAILER who tried to extort cash from a wealthy businessman over sex videos involving his transvestite son has been jailed for 33 months.

Jack Gibson, 28, threatened to release videos and images of the sexual encounter to the media unless the tycoon paid him £8,500.

The married son was described as 'somebody who struggles with their gender identity and sexuality'.

Gibson admitted blackmailing the pair.

He had met up with the married son after contacting him on the gay hook-up app Grindr on April 22.

The next day they had cocaine-fuelled sex at the victim's flat and Gibson covertly filmed the encounter, Southwark Crown Court heard.

'IT WAS A REALLY SOLID GRAB OF MY BREASTS'

Woman tells court how TV star John Leslie 'groped her' in bar

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN was left shocked and stunned after former Blue Peter presenter John Leslie made a "solid grab" of her breasts at a Christmas party, a court heard.

The pair had just shaken hands when the star grabbed both of her breasts and laughed, his sex assault trial was told.

The female victim had recognised Leslie at the gathering in London's West End more than a decade ago, and had just introduced herself before he groped her, she told Southwark Crown Court.

She told the jury: "I put out my hand to shake his hand to say 'hello... nice to meet you'.

"He shook my hand and was smiling and then immediately after he grabbed both of my breasts, one hand on each breast, quite firmly, and laughed.

"It was very confident, I would say. I was very shocked. It wasn't a kind of quick grab. It was a solid grab and then after a period of a couple of seconds, I think he let go and was laughing.

"I was a bit stunned. I didn't say anything, I was a bit annoyed, I was shocked I think. He just sort of laughed and walked off to the bar and that was it."

Demonstrating the alleged incident to the jury with her hands out and making a grabbing motion, she said it was not "accidental", adding: "It was an, 'I'm going to grab your breasts'."

The woman told a friend after the alleged incident, recalling saying to them: "Oh my gosh, this just happened, John Leslie just groped me."

Mr Leslie, 55, denies sexual assault by intentionally touching the woman without her consent on December 5, 2008.

A new jury was sworn in yesterday and the trial opened afresh, after the original jury was discharged on Monday because one juror was "unable to carry on".

WOMAN & THREE KIDS DIE IN HORROR SMASH

THREE children and a 29-year-old woman from the same family have died after a people carrier collided with a lorry.

The accident happened on the A40 near Oxford on Monday night, Thames Valley Police said.

Officers were called at 9.50pm to reports of the collision between a silver Subaru and a HGV near to the railway overbridge just west of Oxford.

The woman and the children – two girls, aged four and eight, and a six-year-old boy – were all pronounced dead at the scene.

Two other passengers in the Subaru, a 30-year-old man and an 18-month-old girl, were taken to John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford, where they are in a critical condition.

The HGV driver, a 56-year-old man, suffered minor injuries.

The family were from Chinnor in Oxon.

X-rated Bale 'can make millions' in OnlyFans strip-off

SPURS star Gareth Bale could rake in TEN TIMES his £600,000-a-week salary if he posed in X-rated snaps on OnlyFans, a study has found.

The 31-year-old Welsh whizz (above), who recently re-signed for Tottenham from Real Madrid, is paid £2.4million-a-month for playing footie.

But boffins reckoned he could make 10 times that amount, around £22m-a-month, if he signed up to saucy site OnlyFans.

Researchers at Topratedcasinos.co.uk found that if just a fraction of Gareth's 43 million Instagram followers paid to see him on the steamy site – where people share raunchy snaps of themselves – he could pocket £5.5m-a-week.

Crime spree spitter told cop he'd find mum 'being raped'

A COVIDIOT was jailed for 14 months after he told a cop he'd find his mother being "raped in a bush".

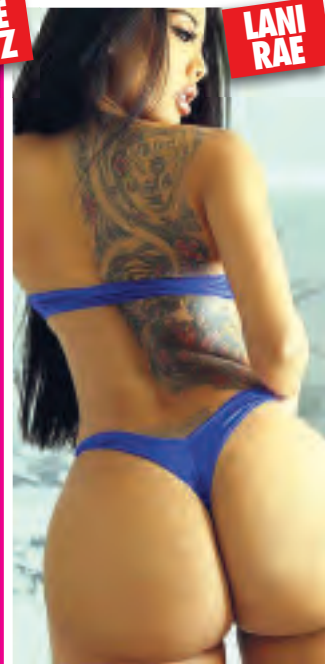

Mark Jones had admitted spitting at eight police officers during a spree of criminality where he also exposed himself to two women dog walkers and urinated next to their car, a judge was told.

The court heard how the 34-year-old was first arrested on the evening of September 12, when police were called to reports of a domestic dispute in Epsom, Surrey, and found him swearing and shouting.

When Jones was told he was being arrested on suspicion of being drunk and disorderly, he replied: "Your mother will be drunk and disorderly when I find her in a bush being raped by a dirty, big black man."

TOP celebrity lesbian Stella Maxwell has allegedly been hit by a photograph leak that seems to show her getting it on with famous stars Miley Cyrus and Bella Hadid.

Internet evildoers claim the pictures show the model topless in bed and cupping pop beauty Miley's pert buster.

Another sees the 30-year-old naked and curled up in bed with a topless Bella Hadid.

Russia: Venus is OUR planet

THE planet Venus is Russian, the former communist nation has declared.

Dmitry Rogozin, head of the Russian space corporation Roscosmos, revealed that the country plans to send its own mission to Venus in addition to "Venera-D", a planned joint mission with the US.

"Resuming Venus exploration is on our agenda," he told media on Tuesday.

"We think that Venus is a Russian planet, so we shouldn't lag behind."

"Projects of Venus missions are included in the united government programme of Russia's space exploration for 2021-2030."

Venus is similar in size to Earth and is our closest planetary neighbour – but it spins backward compared to other planets.

IT'S new Netflix show that everyone is talking about...

But Emily in Paris has upset the French. The series, which stars Lily Collins as an American expat who travels to Paris for work, has proved a huge hit despite receiving a barrage of bad reviews from critics.

But it's the French who have been particularly savage, criticising the series for its "insulting" view of Parisians.

Snobs

"It reduces the capital's inhabitants to vile snobs sporting Birkin handbags who light up a cigarette the minute they're out of the gym," MadmoiZelle wrote in its online review.

Charles Martin, writing for Premiere, said: "The French are all mean and all lazy and never arrive at the office before late morning, and that they are incorrigible flirts with no concept of being faithful.

"They're sexist, backward and, of course, have at best a fitful relationship with their showers."

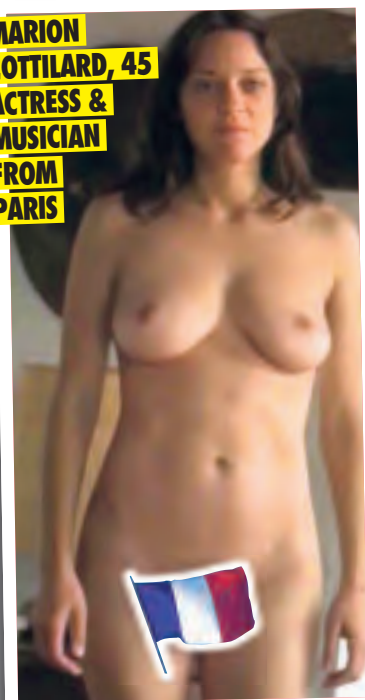

For non-French people, the portrayal of our partners across the Channel as chain-smoking adulterers who reek to high heaven and feast of larks for breakfast sounds pretty close to the mark.

But the French are not ALL bad. Some of them have nice busters.

Here are just a few...

A BLOKE has been accused of surgically removing another man's BOLLOCK as a turn-on.

Ryan King, 27, is said to have cut off the man's testicle after they met online and arranged to meet up to perform a bizarre castration fetish.

Cops in Australia say King met up with the 26-year-old, who had travelled from Sydney, at a Brisbane backpackers' hostel.

King allegedly researched the surgery online and brought medical equipment and anaesthetic with him before removing one of the man's testicles at his request.

It is alleged the wound could not be stitched up enough to stop the bleeding and an ambulance was called.

The other man was rushed to hospital and required surgery.

King is charged with two counts of acts intending to maim, disfigure or disable.

Trump's biggest fan in India is dead

A DONALD Trump fan who worshipped the US president like a god has died after finding out his hero had caught Covid 19.

Bussa Krishna, 33, who has been worshipping Trump every day for the last four years, had been depressed after learning that the president and his wife Melania had fallen ill.

Krishna had shared videos of himself on his Facebook page – often in tears – wishing the Trump family a speedy recovery.

A native of Konne village in India's Jangaon district, Krishna initially started offering prayers to a framed photograph of Trump after the US President appeared in his early morning dream.

"We hope at least the news of his death reaches Trump now," said village elder Venkat Goud.

THERE'S only one way to describe Lancashire lass Katie Thornton's boobs: CRACKING!

Without doubt, she is the biggest thing to come out of Burnley since Corrie's Norris Cole, aka actor Malcolm Hebden, who grew up in the windswept former mill town clinging to the side of the Pennines.

And growing up on the cobbled streets, Katie knew her giant boobs would lead to fame and fortune.

Attention

Because her 32GG whoppers have always captivated men!

Katie, 24, laughed: "I get a lot of guys trying to flirt with me, but I really enjoy the attention."

"They just stare at my boobs. Of course I don't mind. My boobs are my job!"

But it's not just blokes who are captivated by Katie's busters, girls are fascinated too and often ask for a feel to check they are real.

Katie giggled: "Sometimes girls get a bit touchy-feely. It drives the lads wild when they see a girl feeling up my boobs."

"I love it!"

TEEN SEX GIRL GROPED LAGS AT WOMEN'S PRISON

RIMMING:
Hitchcock licked an inmate's
bumhole

A SEX-MAD woman awaiting trial for shagging two teenage lads is in hot water again – accused of groping other lady lags' busters and minges!

Shanda Rae Hitchcock is said to have repeatedly groped a fellow inmate at the Westmoreland Co Prison in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, according to court papers.

The 34-year-old is charged with five counts of indecent assault in the new case.

Vagina

A fellow lag in the women's jail told investigators that Hitchcock rubbed her legs and vagina and grabbed her breasts while a group was playing cards last month.

The groping continued, on and off, for about a week and Hitchcock wrote her at least three letters containing explicit language, police said.

The letters contained detailed descriptions of Hitchcock licking out the complainant and then "rimming" her anus.

By BRAD CHADWICK

The accuser said she was looking at a book in the library when Hitchcock grabbed her between the legs.

Two other inmates reported seeing the groping, according to court papers.

Hitchcock has been in the county jail since November last year when charges were filed in connection with alleged sexual assaults of two boys – the first starting in 2004 and the second in 2016.

One man told investigators he was aged 14 when Hitchcock first had sex with him.

The second accuser was the same age when he said Hitchcock assaulted him, back in October 2016.

She has been charged with rape, involuntary deviate sexual intercourse and related offences in those cases.

Pink car murder suspects seized

Two people suspected of kidnap and murder were caught when their BRIGHT PINK getaway car broke down.

Officers received a call on October 2 reporting a woman's body had been found near California's Lake Cushman.

A post-mortem later determined the woman had been attacked and suffocated.

She was identified as Rachell Rene Roberts, 31.

The investigation led detectives to hunt for 37-year-old Mathew Collett and 28-year-old Kylie Kadeen Craig.

They reportedly stole a pink car from a petrol station but were spotted having broken down.

The pair are in custody awaiting an appearance in court.

SOBBING KIM HAILS 'ZERO' NORTH KOREA COVID CASES

NORTH Korean despot Kim Jong-un CRIED during a massive military parade held to mark the 75th anniversary of the country's founding.

The tubby leader (below) began sobbing when he thanked the "great people" of North Korea for "zero" cases of Covid-19.

"I wish good health to all the people around the world who are fighting the ills of the evil virus," he said.

David Maxwell, a North Korea specialist at the Foundation for the Defense of Democracies, said: "I wouldn't be duped by Kim's emotions. The bottom line is that this parade was to demonstrate military capabilities."

"He wants to lay the groundwork for future blackmail diplomacy against South Korea and the US for concessions after the November elections."

A source in neighbouring South Korea said: "They were crocodile tears."

"The truth is, Kim is full of shit."

Meanwhile, top undies firm Victoria's Secret had never employed a ginger as a brand ambassador Angel. That was until Alexina Graham came along.

Taunts

The Brit-born beauty had endured taunts all her early life.

Alexina, 30, said: "People called me 'carrot top' and 'giraffe'. I was very skinny, I had bright red hair, braces and no boobs at the time. I was an easy target."

Ed and Alexina are proof that gingers – once cast off as pale-faced freaks – are on the up and up.

KILLED FOR A £25 FIX

And he'd done

ARRESTED: George Johnson was high on heroin and crack when he went round to Florence's house – and later admitted killing the old lady

FLORENCE Habesch's family were well known in the north Wales seaside town of Rhyl – they used to own a jeweller's on the resort's main street.

Florence, 89, was an active member of Rhyl's Christ Church, regularly attending services and running a weekly bric-a-brac stall, raising hundreds of pounds for the charity Save The Children.

She died, alone, on the floor of her home in Grange Road, hours after being battered around the head by a junkie odd-job man for a paltry £25.

It was a tragic end to a dutiful life.

Joyce Challis, secretary of Christ Church, said a memorial service had been held and had given comfort to people who were so shocked at the way her life had ended.

"Everyone who knew her remarked what a gentle and private person she was," said Joyce.

"Many of her friends have felt a personal loss and a deep sadness."

Her family described her as a "private, respected lady who had many people that cared for her and who will miss her dearly".

A family member added: "We would like to thank everyone for the kindness and support offered to them during this difficult time."

Florence epitomised the decent half of Rhyl.

But there's another side to the resort which, like many other seaside towns, is a home to drifters, losers and drug addicts.

Customers

And it was one of those who killed Florence Habesch.

George Johnson, 47, was from the West Midlands but he had washed up in Rhyl.

His girlfriend was a representative for the cosmetics company Avon. Florence was one of her customers.

That's how she came to know George Johnson,

FREED...TO KILL

who kindly did some odd jobs for her.

On February 6, 2011, after taking heroin and crack cocaine, Johnson went to Florence's house. He needed money for more drugs.

She had no idea he had robbery in mind and went to make him a cup of tea.

As Florence prepared the brew, evil Johnson battered her over the head with a heavy projector case, causing a massive head injury.

He stole £25 and jewellery, then hit her again because she was staring at him and "still moving".

Johnson got a nephew to buy drugs with the money he stole and later told his brother what he had done.

Dead

The murderer was taken to the West Midlands, where it was discussed whether anyone should check on the victim.

Johnson said that there would be no point

SOL

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

It will all end in tiers!

HERE we go again.

Pubs and restaurants closing their doors or cutting their hours.

Everyone now being told they will almost certainly have to wear a facemask whether they're inside or out.

Bans on seeing your family, friends and even your neighbours.

Minimal attendees at weddings and funerals.

Businesses closing for good. Millions heading towards unemployment.

And just a matter of time before teachers start saying – not unreasonably – that if everyone else is off work, why aren't they?

On the one side you have an all-powerful government saying it's the right thing to do, while appearing not in the slightest bit confident that it is.

And on the other you've got increasing numbers of people simply saying: "Enough already."

If you're a student currently cooped up in your halls of residence 8ft x 6ft hutch, there are three numbers most likely on your mind.

One – that you're only 18 and perfectly healthy.

Two – that you're being asked to pay £9,000 a year plus your rent to sit in that hutch taking online lessons while squeezed over your laptop.

And three – that the average age for coronavirus victims who have died is 82.

That is just a whisker below the average life expectancy for British men in "normal" times.

Grave

Yes, there's a plague. But let's call a spade a spade.

Children – as Whitney once sang – are the future. And they are barely affected by Covid-19.

The elderly, on the other hand, already have one foot in the grave.

Protect the vulnerable by keeping them inside if we must, but let the youngsters roam free.

Because unless we take another look at how we ALL approach this, there will be no recognisable country left into which we can hope to emerge.

HOW Britain works No 9,492...

When Tony Blair was Prime Minister, he installed two Labour stooges to head up the BBC.

One was party donor Greg Dyke as director-general and the other was Gavyn Davies as chairman.

Because that's precisely what sitting governments can and always do – place their mates in the right places.

If your aim is to run a country, it makes sense to have as many people thinking the same way as you do running all the parts of the show.

Now the prime minister is hoping to pull off something similar, this time at both the BBC and the broadcasting watchdog Ofcom.

Boris Johnson's first choice for new chairman of the Beeb was a former Daily Telegraph editor and Bible-bashing

Margaret Thatcher fan recently ennobled in the House of Lords.

Thankfully, though, Lord Snooty passed up the opportunity after reportedly turning his nose up at the sort of money most of us would weep happy tears over.

At Ofcom, BJ wants it to be taken over by a former editor of the Beeb-bashing Daily Mail, which is not so much stirring the pot as chucking a ravenox fox into a hen house.

Is any of this fair? Not at all – but it's what governments do.

Clearly, whoever is in No 10, the first thing on their to do list is "payback time".

Junkie hands in junk meth to the police

A WOMAN handed in a bag of drugs to the police because she said it was "junk".

Beth Ann Franchak, 52 (above), handed in the methamphetamine near her home in St Pete Beach, Florida.

She told an officer she'd purchased £15 worth of meth and would like to turn it over as it was "junk".

She handed over a small plastic bag containing about a quarter of a gramme of a "white, crystal-like substance resembling methamphetamine".

A subsequent test came back positive for the illegal drug.

Franchak was nicked for possession of a controlled substance and booked into the local county jail, from which she was released on a £1,750 bond.

Franchak's rap sheet includes previous convictions for violating a domestic violence protection order.

Bad luck thief returns curse

A TOURIST who stole ancient artefacts from the city of Pompeii has returned them – saying they are "cursed".

The Canadian woman, identified only as Nicole, sent back parts of a jug and a piece of ceramic to a travel agent in Pompeii in southern Italy, with a letter of confession.

Nicole, who was in her early 20s when she visited the archaeological park in 2005, blamed the theft on a run of misfortune she had suffered in the years since, including having breast cancer twice and experiencing financial hardship.

"Please, take them back, they bring bad luck," she wrote.

Pompeii was buried in volcanic ash after Mt Vesuvius erupted nearby in AD79.

Ice cream maker loses 'racist' tag

THE makers of Eskimo Pie ice cream have announced the new name for their brand – as it is now considered "racially insensitive".

From next year it will be known as Edy's Pie – a tribute to one of their founders, Joseph Edy.

In 1928 Edy and William Dreyer decided to join forces to make ice cream, beginning a company which owns Eskimo Pie and is now known as Dreyer's Grand Ice Cream, in turn owned by Nestle.

Elsewhere, Uncle Ben's is now calling itself Ben's Originals.

CHEST GREAT: Emmy gets 'em out on screen

Shameless star Emmy hits back at troll who, to be fair, had a point...

SHAMELESS star Emmy Rossum hit back at a Twitter troll who dismissed her as an actress who "gets paid to get naked on TV".

Emmy, 34, became a target for criticism after she backed Kamala Harris during the vice-presidential debate in the U.S. last week, and said that she wanted the words "I'm speaking" – Harris's quip from the showdown against incumbent Mike Pence – put on a T-shirt.

After declaring her intention, the troll raged: "Yeah your shirts that say I GET PAID TO GET NAKED ON TV are sold out."

Emmy hit back: "I get paid to tell stories and life sometimes involves this awesome thing called sex. Maybe you've just never had, any so you don't know."

She then took to her Instagram account to share a screenshot of the social media exchange, adding the caption: "Don't stand for trolls."

The star of the U.S. version of the hit Brit series then went on to say that her opinions on politics are often dismissed by supporters of President Donald Trump.

She explained in a separate post: "When I say something Trump supporters hate, they love to come at me for my body – 'Shut up and go back to being naked.'"

But while the troll for sure was guilty of being deeply ungentlemanly, he did have a point.

For Emmy has stripped off for some of her surely lucrative roles.

And while we in no way condone trolling, it's only fair to have a look at some of the occasions where her job has led to her revealing her spectacular boobs...

FOOTIE PROJECT BIG PICTURE 'LIKE BEING SHOT AFTER £1M PROMISE'

WARNING: Palios

THE Project Big Picture proposals have been likened to "someone offering you a million pounds but shooting you soon after" by Tranmere co-owner Nicola Palios.

EFL chairman Rick Parry is working on the revolutionary proposals with the support of Liverpool and Manchester United.

They include an immediate £250m rescue package for EFL clubs starved of income by the COVID pandemic and the promise of a 25% cut of future Premier League media revenues.

But it also conveys a greater say over the game's governance to the Premier League's big six, something Palios is deeply concerned about.

"There are some clear good elements to Project Big Picture but they are hugely outweighed by the downsides that will destroy the game in this country," she wrote on Twitter.

"Once you've given all the power to a small group they can do what they want. B teams would be with us in a heartbeat. The EFL would get 25% of the TV money but only after the best of all the games are taken away from TV to be streamed by the big clubs."

"We must not be blinded by the short-term offer of a cash lifeline. It's like someone offering you a million pounds but shooting you soon after."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

MY wife and I recently moved into a new house on a popular estate and she jumped at the chance to join the local mums' club. It seemed like a great idea to get her out of the house with the kids – and it seems an even better idea now that she's met up with a bird who's the spitting image of Kelly Brook. They hit it off right away and are always round at each other's houses and even have the odd night out in the local pub. Well, I've always been a fan of Kelly Brook and I've been lusting after this woman every time she's popped in. She's got the looks and has a spectacular pair of boobs. I must have made it obvious what I'm thinking because the other day this bird called round on the pretext of talking to my missus who was out at the time. I was amazed when she offered me a shag. Should I take her up on it?

SH, Cambridge

Sam says...
IT'S a risk. You may get your end away but it could be the end of your marriage.

Dear Sam,

I'VE been a single mum for two years and I'm quite well-known for being a "fun-time girl" – but I think that's unfair. Most of the men around here are just as sex-mad but they don't get the same sort of label. Recently a new guy moved into the area and asked me out for a drink. We ended up back at his place and I soon had his cock in my mouth. Then he lay me down on the floor and stuck his tongue deep inside my love-tunnel, bringing me to orgasm. Next he ordered me to bend over so he could slap my bum as he shagged me from behind. I am keen to see him again but one of his workmates has told him about my "reputation" and I'm worried he won't want a repeat session. What should I do?

DS, east Yorkshire

Sam says...
STOP worrying. He doesn't sound the type to pre-judge you. Just enjoy yourself.

Bike garage boss gave me the ride of my life

Dear Sam,

I'M 26 and married to a complete waste of space. I work in a busy garage that repairs motorbikes. The boss is about 50, well-built and has a big powerful bike. Last week he offered to take me for a ride on the back of his machine, so I put on a tiny black thong, pink micro mini, knee-high white socks and knee-high black leather boots. We went to a pub and he led me round the back, got on his knees and licked my aching clit. I unzipped him. Out sprang his rampant cock, so thick and rock-hard. I told him to lie back and I got on top and eased all the way down on it and rode him for ages. I came about five or six times before he shot his load. We also did it doggy-style and then he got me on my back with my legs bent back to my chest and rammed in and out. Do you think I'm right to have my cock and eat it?

BG, Kent

Sam says...
WELL, you will need to keep your engine fine-tuned.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I can't get enough of dog walker's bone!

Dear Sam,

I'VE fallen head over heels for a bloke I met while walking my dog – but I fear he's stringing me along.

I was in a nearby park when I first encountered this early morning pooch-walker. I'd never seen him before but he was a real hunk in his early thirties. He had an alsatian that started to take a close interest in my bitch – also an alsatian.

Feverish

After pulling them apart we got chatting and I discovered that he'd just moved into the area after working for a few years in the south.

We kept meeting on our morning walks and I was delighted when he finally asked me if I'd like to go out for a drink with him.

We arranged to meet at a local pub and I really enjoyed his company as we knocked back a few drinks.

We ended up back at my place and we had a few more drinks before I led him to my bedroom.

I unbuttoned his shirt to reveal a firm, well-toned torso. He pulled my sweater over my head, skillfully unhitched my bra and bent to kiss and suck my breasts.

Falling back on the bed, we soon stripped off and he moved his feverish tongue down between my thighs and began to lap at my shaven mound.

He moved his tongue along the length of my crack and then nibbled gently on my clit, bringing me to a shuddering orgasm.

With our shared canine interest, there was obviously only one way to continue – doggy-style.

As I crouched on all fours I could feel every inch of his thick cock sliding deep inside me.

His rhythmic pounding soon had me gushing again and after he finally shot his load we collapsed panting and exhausted on the bed.

But I wanted more and I soon got him going again when I took his limp dick in my mouth, sucking and licking him to another throbbing erection.

This time I took control, making him lie on his back before I eased myself onto his shaft.

I rode him hard and fast as I fingered my clit until he shot his hot spunk deep inside me.

We had several similar sessions and eventually he suggested that perhaps we should mate.

I was delighted as I took it to be a proposal of marriage.

But it turned out he only meant our two pedigree dogs.

What shall I do?

CJ, Cumbria

Sam says...

IF he's sending you barking mad, tell him to go walkies!

Dear Sam,

I WORK in a posh bar at a hotel and a couple of weeks ago a group of women held a school reunion there.

They all got very drunk and I got chatting to a good-looking one who had long, brown hair.

She was only 5ft tall but had a massive pair of tits and lovely arse.

At one in the morning I told them all that they would have to leave.

Everyone left except two, the woman who had caught my eye and her mate.

I reckon they were in their mid-40s – I'm only 23.

I went over to tell them to finish their drinks and noticed the one I fancied had let her skirt ride up to show the tops of her stockings.

Her mate then said: "He's looking to see if you've got any knickers on."

Then the one I fancied got my cock out. She sucked me off while her mate took a picture.

I then fked the other one over a table and the busty brunette took a snap of that.

They left giggling and promised to send me a copy of the snaps, but so far nothing.

What should I do?

TC, Newcastle

Sam says...

YOUR memory of it seems photographic enough.

Mate's mum helped me fulfil sex fantasy

Dear Sam,

MY mate's mum is a cracking blonde in her late 30s and I've wanted to bone her for ages – and a couple of weeks ago I finally fulfilled my fantasy.

I'm 19 and I was in a club in town when I bumped into her. She looked great in a tiny dress that showed off her great body.

We had a few drinks and a dance and I just came right out and told her I'd love to fk her.

She just smiled back at me and said: "I thought you'd never ask!"

Apparently, she's wanted me for ages too. Anyway, we went back to my flat and we wasted no time stripping off and getting down to business.

Pounded

She took my cock in her mouth and sucked me off expertly as I fingered her fanny.

I was soon at the point of no return and pulled out before coming on her face and tits.

I then licked her shaved fanny. She was soon wet and I eased my nine-incher into her.

She was loving it as I pounded away at her until we both climaxed together.

I've had her a few times since, but I'm now starting to worry about what would happen if my mate found out, not to mention her husband.

What do you think I should do?

PR, Wiltshire

Sam says...

YOU'VE had your fun, but you should end this affair before it causes you major problems

'The stirrups are comfy and allow for easy access to my key areas'

#MY SEX FANTASY

I ORDERED a sex swing online and really love it!

You can try out new positions and hit all sorts of new angles you simply can't achieve when shagging in bed.

Not to mention it's just super hot levitating in the air before your partner – all naked and exposed!

I got one that easily fits together and isn't too big for the bedroom.

The stirrups are really comfy and help keep me in place while in the swing, and also allow for easy access to all my key areas!

My fella said it feels like having sex without gravity in space... moving my body, bouncing me up and down on his cock... all taking little effort... kind of like having floating sex!

The only issue is there can be a lot of loud banging... I'm so sorry, neighbours!

WHO would have thought that when the Iron Curtain fell, the biggest impact on our lives would be the flood of gorgeous babes from the East of Europe who were more than happy to do porn.

One of those who made it big with her new freedom to eat spunk on camera was bouncing Czech Veronica Vanoza.

Bigger

The 34D cracker said: "I like the cock and I like to show off, so of course I wanted to be a porn star."

"When it comes to cock, I say the bigger the better."

The 33-year-old added: "I like it in the ass, also. HA, HA!"

veronica VANOZA

HOLLY KENT

PRISON officer Paul Jackson caught an eyeful of Holly Kent in one inmate's cell and has been obsessed with her ever since.

Paul, 43, from Greenwich, south London, can't get enough of the 30-year-old babe, from nearby Streatham.

The guard caught a glimpse of her 32D boobs during a routine check of the cells and now wants his own topless snap of the beauty.

He said: "She's a real stunna. I'd love to get my very own photo of her so I don't keep having to check that cell – I only check it to ogle Holly!"

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

STACEY SAREN

LOCKSMITH James Warner has a dream job – finding the key to Stacey Saren's private box!

The 45-year-old often gets people out of a mess in hometown Keele, Staffs – but it's 26-year-old Stacey he really wants to unlock.

Stacey boasts a 30F rack and the Cardiff stunna loves to show off her impressive tattoos – as well as her stunning top rack.

James said: "I've got a very stiff rod, which I think could be the solution to prising her open!"

ALEXIS JONES

AUTHOR Gavin Potter is suffering from writer's block and reckons a saucy snap of Alexis Jones will get his juices flowing again.

Gavin, 39, from Dundee, is currently penning his first fantasy novel and reckons 29-year-old Maidstone beauty Alexis is the key to his creativity.

He said: "I'm stuck for ideas, so I need something to kick-start me."

"Trust me, a wee look at Alexis's 30Gs will do just that!"

"One look at them and my creative juices will be flowing out all over my pages – I'll have a bestseller before you know it!"

JAW-DROPPING Lucie Jones admits she loves dressing up in sexy lingerie and reckons as soon as she feels the silk stockings, she's ready for SEX.

The 20-year-old, from Bristol, said every time she wears kinky underwear she wants to shag straight away – and admitted her night after this photo shoot was VERY saucy indeed.

The 32E beauty posed in an innocent-looking white set for these pics, but she confessed her thoughts in front of the camera were DEVILISH!

She said: "As far as I'm concerned, wearing sexy lingerie means you're getting ready for sex."

"There's no messing about when you're dressing up in all the naughty gear."

"That means whenever I put some on, I get turned on – I'm like a sexy Pavlov's Dog."

"It can be embarrassing on photo shoots though – I have to rein myself in or I get too turned on."

"Put it this way, after this particular shoot my boyfriend had a VERY good night."

BIG IDEAS:
Cavani

I want to be real Cav-a-go hero at Reds

EDINSON Cavani has his sights set on a glittering end to his career with Man United. The veteran striker joined the Red Devils just before the transfer window closed last week.

And he insists he has come to Old Trafford to win silverware — not to play out his final days and line his pockets.

The Uruguay ace will bring useful experience to Ole Gunnar Solskjaer's attack and believes he can propel United to glory. He can't play this weekend against Newcastle because of quarantine but is ready to make an impact. Cavani said: "I think any player who is competitive by nature always wants to be able to win silverware."

"You always work hard so you can give the best account of yourself, and based on performing at your best, you can get the right results."

"Then, when you've picked up the right results, you can go on to win trophies and achieve big things."

Title

"I've just joined one of the biggest clubs in the world and I think that one of the first objectives it has, as a club, is to win and be champions."

"I believe that you can't help but think that a club like Manchester United can aspire to win the title."

"Starting with the Premier League, and then moving on to other trophies."

"That's what I would like to achieve with this club, win trophies, win titles, and then to be able to make the same impression here that I've always tried to make with every club I've played at."

RAW: Mason Greenwood

Cavani is looking to help the likes of Mason Greenwood and Marcus Rashford who still have plenty to learn in attack.

And he can't wait to pull on a shirt after a long time in the stands at Paris St-Germain.

Cavani added: "It's my turn to experience one of those kind of moments that you could never imagine happening, and when you look back, they really do."

"But it will be a great feeling and a nice experience and it's something that I'm very pleased about."

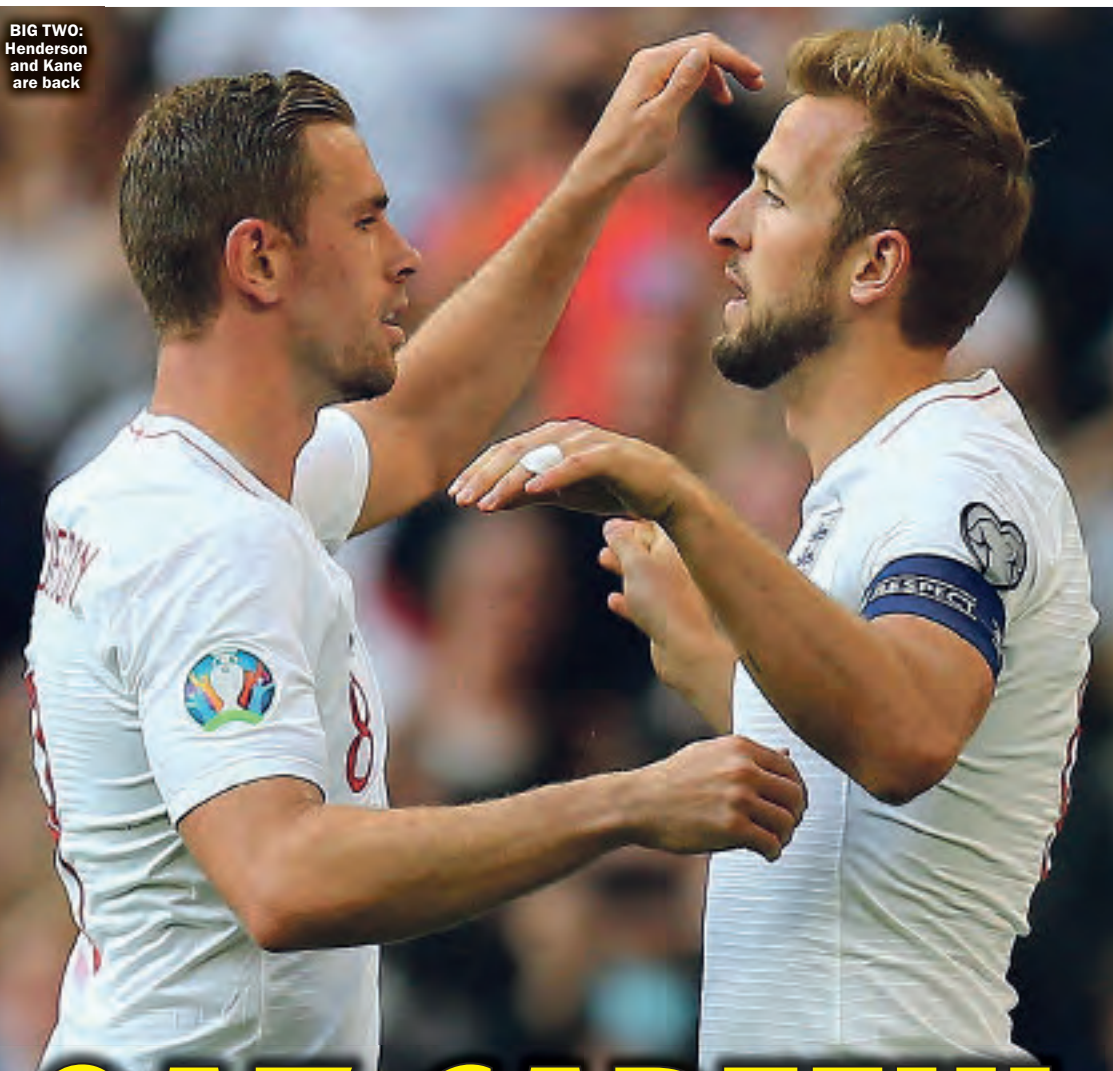

"I'm probably just missing that contact with my team-mates, and getting up to speed on the training ground and the intensity of a game itself."

"But, from the moment I start training, I can get up to speed in as short a period as possible."

GAFFER: Ole Solskjaer

OUR FOOTY NEWS ALWAYS SCORES

BIG TWO:
Henderson and Kane are back

GAZ CAREFUL WITH CROCKS

England easy on Kane and Henderson

GARETH Southgate admits he's trying not to annoy club managers by tiring out the England players.

Two of his most important stars — Harry Kane and Jordan Henderson — have needed tender handling due to injury worries.

The skipper had to miss the Wales game and didn't start against Belgium after joining up with the England squad already knackered after a tough schedule for Spurs.

And Henderson has been injured since late on last season and has yet to figure for Liverpool this term.

The whole international

By PAUL THOMAS

break has got on the nerves of club bosses like Jose Mourinho who has called on the England gaffer to give Kane a rest.

And the Three Lions chief knows he's walking a tight-rope with the schedule for club and country all over the place thanks to Covid.

Southgate now has some delicate decisions to make ahead of the third and final game of this sequence in the Nations League against Denmark.

He said: "We're hoping that with Harry, he'll get more confidence from playing some minutes against Belgium so we'll have to assess both him and Jordan."

"But certainly Harry should be able to play more minutes. He has had a strange training week really."

"We gave him a couple of days of recovery after Sunday, and he started training on Wednesday, he felt some cramp."

"He's had muscle fatigue, basically, he's missed most of the week's training, he got a little bit more confident with it later in the week, but hasn't really done enough on the field to start."

"Jordan is a little bit more complicated because with his club, he had 60 in his first match then 45 the following week so we are going to have to assess him very carefully."

It's not just the captain and vice-captain that have been carrying a knock. Chelsea defender Ben Chilwell is another who hasn't been able to play a full part in this international break.

He has been ill and, at one point, it was thought he may have Covid. But he has had a negative test and appears to be on the mend.

He is another who could figure at some point against the Danes.

Southgate said: "Ben hasn't been able to train through the week. So, there's a little bit of assessment needed over the next couple of days but he is with the group now."

Lions to nick tight win over Denmark

MOUNT ON A HIGH: Southgate's a Mason fan

ENGLAND host Denmark in the Nations League at Wembley this evening on the back of their fortunate 2-1 success over Belgium on Sunday courtesy of a dodgy penalty and a deflected shot by Mason Mount.

The Three Lions did improve in the second half, but they were fortunate to go in level at halftime and they face another stiff test tonight given the Danes beat Iceland 3-0 in Reykjavik at the weekend and drew the reverse fixture with Gareth Southgate's side 0-0 last month.

Goals

Southgate is likely to shuffle his pack again and I do wonder if he knows his best XI with concerns about his defence – including formation – and midfield although Jordan Henderson returning to the fold is a big plus if not for Everton with the Merseyside derby to come at the weekend.

England are a best price of 3/4 with Unibet with the Danes at 9/2 with Betfred and the draw at 5/2.

There were not many opportunities in Copenhagen last month and I do not believe we will see a flood of goals at Wembley.

England to win and under 2.5 goals is 14/5 with betway and that is the recommendation.

Note England are 8/11 to top the Group even though they must travel to Brussels next month with Belgium 5/4.

A draw will do the Three Lions next month if they beat Denmark a mark tonight, but I feel Roberto Martinéz's side are a superior team and they are likely to make a short work of Iceland this evening.

Scotland are running out of bodies for their top-of-the-table clash with the Czech Republic public with Andy Robertson unavailable through suspension. The Scots won the reverse fixture against a much-weakened Czech side in Prague last month when they came from behind to win 2-1.

Steve Clarke's side were a shade fortunate to win last month but they have found a way of getting a positive result without playing well and I do not expect to see many goals at Hampden.

Scotland are 5/2 to follow up their win against Slovakia on Sunday with the Czechs 13/10 and the draw at 9/4. I fancy under 2.5 goals at 4/6 with the draw also looking overpriced at 9/4 with Unibet.

Wales top their Nations League group but must travel to Sofia to meet a Bulgaria who lost the reverse fixture in Cardiff last month after Neco Williams's last-minute winner. Ryan Giggs side are 11/10 with their hosts 10/3 and the draw at 21/10.

Another game where I do not expect to see many goals and a 1-1 draw is the recommendation at 5/1.

Rusty

The IPL has been a magnificent competition and I am looking forward to seeing Joss Buttler and Ben Stokes this afternoon playing for Rajasthan Royals against the Delhi Capitals.

Stokes has only recently joined his franchise as a result of family issues and looked as rusty as an old gate at the weekend when he only bowled one over and scored five opening the innings with England teammate Buttler.

With RR's captain Steve Smith struggling for form I think the Delhi Capitals can consolidate their position at the top of the table.

Delhi are expected to justify their odds of 8/11 at William Hill with Rajasthan 6/5.

BACK: Ben Stokes

TARGET: Deeney

BAGGIES TO STING HORNETS FOR TROY

By ANDY MILLOM

WEST BROM are close to sealing a deal for Watford striker Troy Deeney.

The Championship transfer deadline is this Friday and top-flight clubs can still buy players from the second tier until then.

That's good news for Deeney who looks set for a rapid return to the Premier League. Tottenham were thought to be close to signing the big hitman only for Jose Mourinho to plump for Brazilian ace Carlos Vinicius on loan.

That has left the way clear for the Baggies to move in and pick up the 32-year-old.

The sticking point could be his wages with Deeney easily the biggest earner at Vicarage Road where his is club captain.

He is unlikely to take a drop to sign for a club that could well be in the second tier next season.

But West Brom are desperate for proven Premier League quality and will pay whatever he wants.

And they need to act quickly because Southampton are also thought to be interested which could push up Deeney's wage demands.

He may not be the only Championship player taking a step up before Friday's deadline.

Liverpool continue to be linked with Stoke City goalkeeper Jack Butland.

The Reds are looking for a stronger No2 to replace Adrian who has had horror shows on his past two appearances for the Champions.

His mistake started the ball rolling in their shock 7-2 defeat against Aston Villa.

And that was after his display saw Liverpool knocked out of the Champions League by Atletico Madrid just before lockdown.

The problem could be

WANTED: Jack Butland

that Butland knows he will never be No1 at Anfield behind Alisson Becker.

But he isn't even in the Stoke first-team at the moment having been a regular in the England squad.

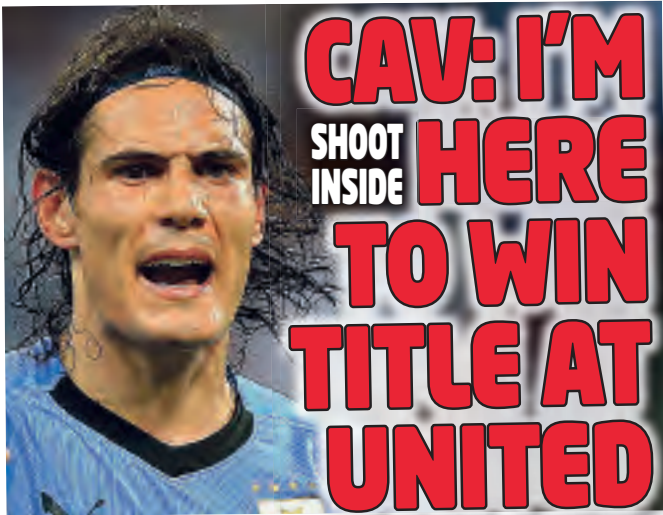

That means the 27-year-old would be available for peanuts and would at least get the chance to play Premier League football again while the big Brazilian is injured.

And Liverpool have fielded weakened sides in cup competitions which would get Butland's career back on track.

WE NEED THE FANS

Empty stadiums a killer says England boss

GARETH Southgate says he's desperate to get fans back at football.

The England boss admits it was an eerie experience to take on Belgium and Wales in front of an empty Wembley Stadium.

And he is backing calls for supporters to make a safe return to the stands as soon as possible. He said: "I think the other night against Wales was a classic example of why we miss it so much.

By JOHN ANTHONY

"To have so many lads making their England debuts and some of them scoring their first goals, playing at Wembley in front of nobody is such a shame for them, not being able to share those moments.

"They're moments that live with you forever. We know what it would mean for the game."

Fans are back in several European countries including Germany and Norway.

Southgate hopes to see some supporters back in ground soon — even if it's in small numbers thanks to social distancing.

He added: "We know that we don't have a game without fans really — that interaction, the atmosphere.

"The level of performance goes even higher when fans are in the stadium.

"We're all hoping that can happen as quickly as possible."
